

LAST EDITION.

PRICE ONE CENT.

EVENING EDITION.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1887.

EVENING EDITION.

PRICE ONE CENT.

THE BROTHERHOOD TABLED.

LEAGUE DIRECTORS IN SESSION AT THE FIFTH AVENUE.

A Stormy Session Predicted-The Brotherhood Intrenched at the Barrett House-The Business of the Year Indersed and the Pennant Formally Awarded to the Detroit Club-Nichols is Not Reinstated.

Bright and early the League delegates gathered at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. A good night's sleep had strengthened them for the battle of the day. They greeted each other pleasantly and gathered in little groups in the long corridors to discuss matters. It was not a bright outlook for the Brotherhood.

The general impression conveyed was that the players composing the order would not be recognized as an organization. The delegates, however, seemed willing enough to admit the members of the Brotherhood into the meeting and give them a hear-ing as individuals.

It is not known whether the members of the Brotherhood will accept such a proposi-tion, They were intrenched at the Barrett House, and declared that the League must send for them. send for them.

The members of the Brotherhood forming

The members of the Brotherhood forming the committee are Messrs. Ward, Morrill, Brouthers and Hanlon. There is sure to be a hot fight over the percentage system. Detroit thinks the fact of her winning the championship will make the club a strong drawing card and that this fact entitles them to a percentage. Boston, on the other hand, will make a strenuous kick against the percentage system. Arbitration may induce the big three from Boston to accept a compromise.

Arbitration may induce the big three from Boston to accept a compromise.

The directors were to have met at 9 o'clock, but the non-arrival of President John B. Day caused a long delay. They will be in session but a short time when the regular League meeting will be called. Manager Horace S. Fogel, of Indianapolis, has resigned to accept a position on Sporting Life. The resignation takes effect immediately. This will leave a vacancy to be filled to-day. From indications at noon it appeared that the meeting would be a long and stormy one. It will probably extend over until to-morrow. At the directors' meeting, the business of the year was endorsed and the pennant formally awarded to the Detroit club. The meeting of the League was called at a quarter past twelve o'clock. President Nick Young occupied the chair.

A. H. Nichols, the black-listed player of

A. H. Nichols, the black-listed player of 1887, made application for reinstatement to the directors and was refused.

Ten years has not removed the stain from Al Nichols's reputation as a ball player. So said the Board of Directors of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs in refusing Nichols's application for reinstatement. Nichols's oftense was selling games in connection with Carver, of the Louisvilles, in 1877. This was the most important action of the Board of Directors. Then the members of the Association filed solemnly into Parlor F, and prepared for action.

action.

The hands on the big clock in the marble-tiled barroom pointed to 12.15 when President Nick Young mounted his chair and called the meeting to order. Then the doors were locked and it required a very potent "open sesame" to cause the brown door to were locked and required a very potent "open sesame" to cause the brown door to swing back and give entrance.

When one did enter he saw men of all sizes and complexions, who control the game that has such a strong-hold on the affections of the American people.

There was President John B. Day, of the New York Giants; the famous "Big Three" of Boston, Messrs. Conaut, Billings and Soden; Al Reach and John I. Rogers, of the Philadelphia; President Stearns, George M.
Bail and Attorney Gray, of the champion Detroits; W. A. Nimick, A. K. Scandrett and J. Palmer O'Neal, of the Pittsburg; John T. Brush, of the Indianapolis; A. G. Spalding and Walter Spalding, of the Chicago, and President Hewitt, Walter Hewitt and John D. Sage, of the Washington. The regular business was introduced.

Some little time was devoted to discussing the constitution. The communication of the Brotherhood was received and laid on the table. At 1.25 an adjournment was taken until 2.30 for lunch.

Fall of a Big Steam Derrick.

A section of the Union Rievated Railroad, in course of erection on Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, course of erection on Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, gave way at 7 o'clock this morning, carrying with it an immense steam derrick used in placing the iron work in position. No one was hurt.

The men had just begin work when a swaying of the structure was felt. All made a rush or safety. With one exception they escaped, Edward Spier, who was up on one of the girders finding it about to give way, made a jump to the street below, a distance of twenty-five feet. He received a slight fracture of the right tankle. A street car had passed by only a moment before the derrick fell.

Charged With Stealing a Watch. lison, builder, of $37 East Fifty-eighth street, made complaint before Justice Murray in street, made complaint before Justice Murray in the Yorkville Police Court this morning that John Doney, tweaty-five years old and homeless, had stoleg his gold watch at the Irving Hail beadquariers, No. 957 Third avenue, on the night of Nov. 7. Christian Bing made affidavit that he saw Doney take the Watch. The prisoner was committed for trial in default of $1,000 ball. This is the fourth man that Wilson has had arrested for the theft of the watch. Last Friday two of the men were seld for trial, and the third was discharged for want of evidence yesterday.

Dashed Through a Crowd.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 16. -At noon to-day apirited horse, drawing a heavily laden truck, spirited horse, drawing a heavily laden truck, dushed through a crowd of thirty laborers working on a street improvement on Market street. Newark. Two of the men were run over. One of them, Patrick Murphy, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital. He is expected to die this afternoon. Frederick Krouse, an old man living at No. 79 Helmont avenue, will lose his right leg. The driver escaped with the horse and truck. The police are looking for him.

The New York Club's Mortgage. Judge Barrett to-day to mortgage its property, at the southwest corner of Thirty-fifth stree and Fifth avenue, for $450,000. James D

Smith, President of the club, in an affidavit states that the property was purchased on March 18, 1857, for $242,500. He says that it will cost $400,000 to repair and fit up the club-house and that bonds in that amount have been issued. James C. Ludlow Dead. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. NEWARK, Nov. 16. -James C. Ludlow, ex-President of the Newark Common Council, and well known throughout the State, died at his home in Kearney this morning.

Death of Charles P. Pelgram. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PATERBON, N. J., Nov. 16. -Charles P. Pelgram, a member of the firm of Pelgram & Meyer, silk manufacturers of this place, died at six o'clock talk morning of faity degeneration of the heart. Todd's Bucket-Shap Closed. luket-shop of Elliott W. Todd, who was convicted and fined yest-rday in the General Sensions Court under the Gambling act, was closed to public to-day.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL.

Two Georgia Desperadoes' Futile Endeavor to Gain Liberty. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

ATLANTA, Nov. 16 .- Tom Woolfolk, the desperado who is soon to answer to a charge of having murdered nine members of his immediate family, made an ineffectual attempt to escape from the Bibb County Jail yesterday. While most of the prisoners were at court for the purpose of having counsel assigned them, Jailer Birdsong's attention was attracted by a scraping sound from the direction of Woolfolk's cell. Creeping in unopserved the jailer saw the prisoner trying to pry up a piece of the floor with a part of the pry up a piece of the floor with a part of the iron bedstead. There were two prisoners, Ramage and Ketchen, on either side of Woolfolk. Ramage was caught conversing with Woolfolk, and then told the jailer that Woolfolk had a knife. The two prisoners were removed and their cells searched.

In the top of the water-closet in Ramage's cell was found a hole big enough to admit the body of a man, leading to the closet in Woolfolk's cell. Marks of a saw were plainly visible upon the bars of the window opening into the jailyard. The jailor made an ineffectual attempt to find the knife which Woolfolk was said to have, the desperado all the time carrying on a lively conversation with him. Birdsong got additional help and renewed the search. When he got back to the cell Woolfolk amused himself by singing a stanza of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Birdsong found the knife concealed on the upper ledge of the window. It was a common double-bladed knife, both blades being carefully notched so as to make a capital saw. mon double-bladed knife, both blades being carefully notched so as to make a capital saw. Woolfolk and Ramage were evidently in the plot together, but it is not known whether or not Kitchen was implicated. Kitchen is nearly blind, but not long ago succeeded in breaking jail at McRao.

Woolfolk will now be confined in a portion of the jail by himself.

HAWAHAN REVOLUTION FACTS.

Dr. G. H. Martin, from Honolula, Gives Some Interesting Details.

DEPECTAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I PITTSBURG, Nov. 16 .- Dr. G. H. Martin, the man in whose house the recent practical revolution in Hawaii was organized, arrived in this city this morning. He left Honolulu Oct. 25 and brings later news than has been published.

A special session of the Legislature was to have been held on Nov. 8, at which the dominant party intended to depose the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, Godfrey Brown.

retary of Foreign Affairs, Godfrey Brown. This official was once a League man, but has since become a monarchist, and it is believed that his retention in the Cabinet would restore Kalakaua to the supreme power.

Dr. Martin states that the royal family have impoverished a naturally productive country by reckless extravagance and the citizens could stand it no longer. Nine men met at his house on Jan. 5 last and organized the Revolutionary League, with the intention of establishing a Hawas prepared. Then the Leaguers joined the Honolulu Rifles and succeeded indrawing that organization into their schemes. Then the King became alarmed and signified his willingness to do anything. The constitution was modified so as to retain him as a figure-head. He has only the power of veto, and that can only be exercised with the consent of the Cabinet. The indorsement of the league's action was seen in the recent sent of the Cabinet. The indorsement of the league's action was seen in the recent elections, when forty-six out of forty eight of the nobles elected and delegates were Leaguers. Dr. Martin says that Claus Spreckles left Hawaii because he could not rule the other sugar growers, and that his threat to ruin them by raising beet-root sugar in California is all nonsense. To-day is King Kalakau's fifty-first birthday, and the intention was to celebrate it in an imposing manner.

T. P. PUTNAM DEFIANT.

imposing manner.

He Says He is Opposed to Henry George and Fears No Investigation.

A reporter of THE EVENING WORLD asked T. P. Futnam to-day if he had anything to say in regard to the charges made against him. The story was that a quiet investigation is going on in District Assembly No. 49 of the Knights of Labor to ascertain the causes of the defeat of the United Labor party at the recent United Labor party at the recent election; that Putnam is looked upon as having contributed to the defeat, and that he called several prominent members of the order together and urged them to aid in defeating Mr. George.

Mr. Putnam replied: "Let them go ahead and investigate. If I have done anything I am willing to take the responsibility. It is true that I am bitterly opposed to Henry George. If there be an investigation the causes of the opposition will be made clear. Those who are intimate with me know that I am not in politics."

Found Dead at the Foot of a Cliff.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 16.—Leonar Bruenwald, age fifty years, a German shoemaker of Furnet street, and prominently connected with Helvotta Lodge of Odd Fellows, disappeared from his home has night. He was last seen in the saloon of Gustav Goepke, which he left at 1 A. M. To-day, at 9 o'clock, his bödy was found at the base of the ragged cliff facing the west bank of the Raritan River, one mile below the city. Gruenwale had frequently quarrelled with his wife. The supposition is that he became intoxicated and either fell from the cliff or purposely threw himself down the declivity of sixty feet. of l'urnet street, and prominently connected with Five Colored Laborers Killed.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 16. - Five colored in borers on the extension of Nashville, Florence and Sheffield Railroad were killed yesterday by being buried in a mass of rocks and earth, blown up by an explosion of charges of dynamite on the railroad The foreman had sent the men away to a place of safety, but the negroes, thinking there would be no danger, came too near the blast, and were in-stantly killed when the explosion occurred.

Killed by a Block From Aloft.

REW LONDON, CORR., Nov. 16.—A block fe from aloft on board the schooner Annie A. Holton, of Thomaston, yesterday and struck Michael Levison, one of the crew, on the head. His skull was smashed into many pieces and part of it entered the oratu, but he lived until this morning, when death came. He belonged in Hockland, Mc. The Holton left New York Monday and arrived here late Tuesday.

Memorial to Poet Whittier.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
SALEM, Mass., Nov. 16.—The committee of the Essex Club to prepare the memorial to Poet Whittier, to be presented Dec. 17, on the eightieth anniversary of his birth, met at the Essex House this morning. There were present Mesers. Loring, Cogswell. Allen, Cate and Shepard. It was de-cleded to frame a testimonial letter to be signed by prominent men throughout the nountry.

SENSATION IN WASHINGTON.

MARRIAGE OF MR. CARROLL TO HISTORIAN BANCROPT'S GRANDDAUGHTER.

The Bride is Pretty and Popular, and Society Supposed That She Was Going to Marry Somebody Else-She Left Her Grand father's Residence to Take a Walk, but Took u Husband Instead.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVERING WORLD.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 .- Washington society has a genuine sensation to-day in the marriage of Miss Susanne Bancroft, a grand daughter of George Bancroft, the historian, to Mr. Charles Carroll, of Maryland, which took place privately last evening. Miss Bancroft has been a prominent figure in Washington society.

She is very pretty and popular. Her marriage to Mr. Carroll was a complete surprise to all her friends. Her grandfather knew nothing of it until the young couple returned to ask his blessing. Quite recently Miss Bancroft's engagement was announced to a member of one of the foreign legations here and she was supposed to be preparing her trousseau for that event.

Mr. Carroll and Miss Bancroft met at Newport last summer and a strong attachment sprang up between them, with all the charm that enforced secrecy could add until yesterday's quiet wedding brought the pretty love that enforced secrecy could add until yester-day's quiet wedding brought the pretty love affair to a happy culmination.

About 11 o'clock yesterday forencon Miss Bancroft left her grandfather's residence. No. 1826 H street, with Mr. Carroll, as if going out for a walk. The couple went to the parsonage of St. Matthew's Church and stated their errand to Rev. Father Chappell, who informed them that he could not marry them without a dispensation from Cardinal Gibbons authorizing him to perform the ceremony without the customary publication of the banns was required by the Roman Catholic Church. Nothing daunted, they boarded the next train for Baltimore and called at the Cardinal's residence, where they had no difficulty in obtaining the coveted document, and were soon on their way back to Washington, and were finally married at 5.30 in the evening.

After the ceremony Miss Bancroft returned to her home on H street, while the happy groom returned to his hotel, just a block from the church. Miss Bancroft's marriage recalls the fact that her father married an obscure girl in France and was disinherited by his father. He did not live very long, and the early education of his daughter was left to her mother's people. A reconciliation took place a few years ago between the venerable historian and his granddaughter, and she has since made her home with him. It is said that Mr. Bancroft has accepted the situation gracefully. Mr. Carroll is one of the descendants of Lord Baltimore and is connected with some of the best families of Virginia and Maryland. He is not rich, but has a comfortable income.

CLAIR'S COURAGE REWARDED.

Soldier Thomas H. Hinton, of Marbick

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Nov. 16.-Robert C. Clair, of Mill Hill, Pa., is the heir of an $18,000 estate in consequence of a single act of courage and mercy during the rebellion, done to the late Thomas H. Hinton, of Mar-Both men were soldiers, and on the night following the battle of Hatcher's Run, Va., Chair was on reserve picket duty. Outside the picket line lay a wounded soldier, whose calls for water and moans of distress were plainly heard by the guard. To attempt his rescue was a task of extreme danger, from which stout hearts shrank. At length, however, the appeals became so heartrending that sympathy for a brother in distress triumphed over the dictates of caution, and Clair went to the rescue and succeeded in bringing the wounded man within the lines, where he was cared for and sent to the hospital. The wounded soldier was Thomas H. Hinton. He recovered from his wounds, and when he lately died out of gratitude to his preserver he bequeathed his property to the man who saved him.

Hinton was a bachelor and was without relatives in this country. An attorney of Marblehead has notified Clair of his good fortune. however, the appeals became so

Mysterious Death of J. R. Newton.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
LOCEPORT, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The body of J. R. Newton, a wealthy resident of Youngstown, was found lying beside the tracks of the New York Central fallroad, between Lewiston and Suspen-sion Bridge this morning. It is thought that he fell over the bank and was killed. The thought that he was waylaid, robbed and thrown over the bank is also advanced. There is some mystery connected with his death.

United Labor Party in Missouri

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16.—A Henry George United Labor party was organized here to-day for the State of Missouri. Alli the delegates in attendance are for Henry George for President and James G. Maguire, of California, for Vice-Presi-dent. The Syracuse platform was adopted and propositions made for an aggressive fight through-out the State. The convention was for organization, not nominations.

Sir Lyon Playfair's Departure. Among the passengers on the White Star steam hip Germanie, which sailed to-day, was the Right Hon. Sir Lyon Playfair, the representative of the Ed nburgh University in the Brillah Parliament. He was accompanied by his wife, and had been visiting Lauy Playfair's relatives in Boston.

A Toronto Bank Closes. INFECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. | TORONTO, NOV. 16.—The Central Bank of Toonto closed its doors this morning in consequence of the present money stringency. They have not been able to realize promptly on their assets.

Telegraphic Brevities. CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Parsons, the wife of the executed Anarchist, has resumed her duties in the office of the Western Newsman.

PRESCOTT, Ari., Nov. 16.—The richest gold mine over discovered has been found on the Hassayampa diver near this place. The ore averages $1,000 per PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 16, -Mrs. Sarah Gowdey, who was present at the birth of Gen. Grant and who was his nurse in infancy, died here to-day, COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 16.—Stephen Balley, an aged resident of Duck Pond, killed his wife with an axe last Saturday night, and burned the body in a furnace.

Wassington, Nov. 16.—Col. John R. Fellows called at the Waite House resterday and was congratulated by the President and Col. Lamont. He predicted a Democratic majority of 80,000 in New York in 1808.

York ta 1868.

ORANGEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 16.—The house of inspector Anderson was blown up by dynamite last night for the second time. A note was found warning him to desist from his efforts to enforce the prohibition law.

BOSS PLATT AT WORK.

Conference With Republican Leaders About Organizing the Legislature.

Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt has recovered from the defeat of his State ticket and is now preparing to organize the next Legislature in

A few days ago he summoned many of his

A few days ago he summoned many of his trusted lieutenants. Senators and Assemblymen elect and others who have influence with incoming legislators to meet him at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The orders were obeyed, and last evening the lobby was thronged by his friends.

Among those who were there to have a chat with the boss were Senators Low, Fassatt, Hendricks, Walker and Arnoid and Assemblymen Cole, of Schuyler, Saxton and Davis, of Wayne; Ainsworth, of Oswego, and Hadley, of Franklin. More Legislative pilgrims are expected this afternoon. Several conferences have already been had.

Those who are taking part in the consultations are very secretive. Senator Hiscock is assisting Boss Platt in pulling the wires.

Assemblyman Cole, of Schuyler, appears to be the favorite candidate of the Platt people for Speaker. The next will be his fourth consecutive term as a member of the House. Hs was a candidate for Speaker last year, but withdrew in favor of Gen. Husted. Assemblyman Saxton, of Wayne, who has been mentioned for Speaker, announces that he is for Cole. Assemblyman Ainsworth, of Oswego, is a candidate for the gavel.

There is no use trying to squelch James for the gavel.

for the gavel.

There is no use trying to squelch James W. Husted. He is the liveliest kind of a candidate for Speaker and is as usual hopeful. He says that this is his "last time." The friends of the other candidates say that this "last time" of the redoubtable James W., is a chestnut.

From what can be learned Boss Platt will not forgive Gen. Husted for supporting Miller of forgive Gen.

rrom what can be learned soss l'iatt will not forgive Gen. Husted for supporting Mil-ler for United States Senator. If this is true the General will find it difficult to be re-elected Speaker.

NEW SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

The Mayor's Appointments—Merris K. Jesup Probably to Succeed Mr. Bell.

Although Mayor Hewitt declines to make public beforehand the names of his appointees to the Board of Education to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of several of the Commissioners, it is pretty well understood that all the retiring members will be reappointed, with the exception of Mr. Isaac Bell, who, on account of his long service and advancing years, has signified a desire to be relieved of further public service. In his place, rumor has it, and it is based upon statements coming more or less directly from the Mayor himself, that Mr. Morris K. Jesup will receive the appointment. The Commissioners whose terms expire this year are Jacob D. Vermilye, J. Edward Simmons, W. J. Welch, Isaac Bell, De Witt J. Seligman, Robert M. Gallaway and Charles L. Holt, and each occupies some prominent official position in the Board, Mr. Simmons being the President. The Mayor, according to law, must send in his appointments to the Board of Education on the third Wednesday in November, which is to day, and he will probably send them up during the meeting of the Board, which occurs at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The principal business to be transacted at vacancies caused by the expiration of the of the Board, which occurs at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The principal business to be transacted at the meeting of the Board this afternoon is the consideration of the nominations for trusteeships in all the wards of the city, submitted by the Committee on Nominations at the last meeting. The feature of the list is the nomination of Miss Alice Pine, of 31 West Tenth street, for the vacancy in the Fifteenth Ward. It is thought that there may be some contest over this nomination, as may be some context over this nomination, as no woman has ever before occupied this posi-tion in New York City.

NOT READY TO TALK YET.

Mr. Martine Has Read the Mayor's Letter

District-Attorney Martine said to-day that he had nothing to communicate to the press respecting the several matters pending be fore him. Most's case, the case of Ives & Staynor and the complaint against Jay Gould and Russell Sage were under advisement, and Hussell Sage were under advisement, but nothing conclusive had yet been done in any of them, he said.

Concerning the Mayor's lettet in regard to the accumulation of excise cases in the pigeon holes of the District-Attorney's office, which had not even been submitted to the Grand Jury. Mr. Martine refused emphatically to talk for publication.

"I have read that letter," he said, "and that's all. I will not discuss the matter, but when I am prepared I will make my reply to the Mayor."

The Alesia's Passengers Released The Italian steerage passengers who arrived on the cholera-stricken ship Alesia during the latter the cholera-stricken ship Alesia during the latter part of September, and who were detained at Quarantine, were released this morning. A consultation was held by the Quarantine Commissioners some days ago, and it was then decided that it would be perfectly safe to allow the poor people to proceed to their destinations, after their long and weary detention. This decision was communicated to the Emigration Commissioners this morning, was were directed to send a barge down the Bay to transfer the people to this city. At about 10, 30 o'clock this morning the first boat was sent out. It is expected to return to Castle Garden with a load of passengers some time this afternoon.

Mrs. Austin Owns the Store. Mrs. Mary C. Austin was seen to-day regarding the attachment for $1,481 which the Manufacturers the attachment for St, see which the Manufacturers and Traders' Bank of Buffalo has brought against her brother-in-law, B. J. Austin, and former proprietor of the store which Mrs. [Austin now manages and claims to own. "My brother-in-law is in Red Bank, N. J., on his vacation, and I own all the articles in this groun," she said. "I won't tell you anything more except that my brother-in-law has owed me money for a long time."

Tore the Rear Wall Out. Contractor Peter Gal enge's men were blasting rock yesterday afternoon in the rear of a frame house at 2021 Third avenue. One of the charges was too strone, and the mass of rock that it dis-lodged was showered upon the house with the force of a shell from a ten-inch gun. The whole rear wall, from the second floor down, was smashed. The house stands on one leg, as it were. No one was hurt.

Knights Making an Investigation. There is no little excitement among the Enights

f Labor to-day over the announcement in to-day's Working that some one had furnished a report of the proceedings of a recent meeting of District As-sembly No. 49, which was sent to a newspaper for publication. An exposure of the person who di-vulged the secrets of the order will probably result from the investigation now in progress.

Laugebardi to be Tried Soon. Guiscope Longobardi, the young Italian who shot and killed brave Johnny Barrett on Park row on the evening of Oct. 16, white defending his sister from insult, was arranged in Part I. of the Court of General Sections this morning. If pleaded not guilty. The case was transferred to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, where it will be tried by Oct. Fellows at an early date.

CARNEY'S WICKED FIGHT

He Struggles Very Hard to Knock Out McAuliffe.

Seventy-four Rounds Fought in a Stable Near Westerly, R. I.

The Breaking of One of the Posts Holding the Ring-Rope Causes a Wrangle and Stops the Mill-Carney Was Then Fresh, While McAuliffe Showed Signs of Weak ening—The Britisher Enraged Because McAuliffe Dodged Ilin In-Fighting-Mc Aulifie Got First Blood-Many Clincher and Claims of Foul-Carney the Wickedest Fighter in the World-Time of Fight, 4h. 58m.-The Men to Meet Again.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. Boston, Nov. 16 .- After meetings at Provi dence, R. I., South Framingham, Mass., Aliston and Boston, the light-weight champion, Jem Carney, of Birmingham, Eng., and Jack McAuliffe, of New York, met at 1 o'clock this morning in a ring pitched in a stable near Westerly, R. I. Seventy-four rounds were contested in th

58m. 15s., and the battle was not concluded The giving way of a stake in McAuliffe's corner as McAuliffe was banged against it by the Englishman gave the ten men a side present, and some thirty more who managed get there, an excuse for breaking into the ring for the third time and surrounding Referee Frank Stevenson, who was appealed to by the McAuliffe party on a claim that Carney was fouling their man by hitting him below the belt on his tender groin. Stevenson would not allow the claim any more than he would the Carney people's laim to the battle and stakes.

Finally Stevenson gave his order to postpone the fight till further notice, because the owner of the stable wouldn't let the rising wrangle it had become proceed any further on his premises. Carney, with a blackened left eye, was then standing in the centre begging McAuliffe to come on, while Con McAuliffe and Jack Dempsey were holding the American on his McAuliffe has an ear on him as large English walnut, an injured nose, both his eyes nearly closed, and lumps and swellings on forehead and ribs. The battle was a slow and careful one. The fight was for $4,500. The match was originally for $5,000, but the Williamsburger's illness and the anxiety of Carney to get the money made them accept $500 out of the stakes and agree to a postponement of six weeks.

The men were to weigh not more than 133 pounds each eight hours before entering the ring, and they scaled at South Framingham, Mass., at noon Tuesday. Carney weighed 129 pounds, and McAuliffe 131 pounds.

M'AULIFFE WINS THE TORS. Jem Carney, closely followed by Patsey Shephard and Arthur Chambers and Nobby Clark, was first over the ropes. McAuliffe was handled by Dempsey and Con McAuliffe. The toes for corners was made with a $2.50 gold piece, and Dempsey won it. Carney crossed to McAuliffe's corner with $500 to back himself, and $450 was quickly laid against it.

$500 to back himself, and $500 was quickly laid against it.

Carney was dressed in white drawers and white socks and wore black fighting boots.

McAuliffs wore his usual blue fighting breeches and white shoes. Carney's colors were the blue bird's-eye.

McAuliffe was all that has been said of him recently and his condition reflected great.

recently, and his condition reflected great credit on Trainer Jack Dempsey. He is an inch the superior of the Englishman in height and ten years younger. Mike Bradley and Billy Daley were chosen timekeepers.

THE FIGHT BEGUN AT ONE.

A clock on a near-by church tower struck 1 as the men and their seconds retreated from the centre after shaking hands, and the pugilists advanced in fighting attitudes. Both were careful at first; then McAuliffe was backed into the corner of the ring by the Englishman. Carney feinted a half a dozen times. McAuliffe stretched out almost to the floor in his eagerness to cross or straight-counter him. The blow came, a left-hander, straight on Mao's right eye, but he ducked, though not quite quickly enough, and the thump left a lump on the recipient's forehead. Carney ducked the American's cross-counter cleverly, but in a raily a few seconds later was knocked down handily.

Betting, which had been 3 to 2 on Carney, with few takers, changed at once, and when the Briton was taken off his feet twice more in this round one bet of $250 to $200 was made. Time was called as the men were battering each other at short range. THE PIGHT BEGUN AT ONE.

tering each other at short range.

A heavy left-hand blow on Carney's right eye cheered the McAuliffe people to freer betting as soon as the second round opened. A rally and some in-fighting and the style of the remainder of the round gave a presage of the rest of the battle. McAuliffe's party had decided to keep the Englishman from doing any of his favorite in fighting, and their man was to stay in his corner and try to wear Carney out. M'AULIFFE'S TACTICS.

wear Carney out.

Some terrible punching was done, mostly by Carney in the clinches, but the McAulife men yelled "foul" every time the two got together, and Mae found the easiest way to a yold in fighting, at which he was sure to get the worst of it, was to hold on to his opponent with one or both hands until Stevenson, who could not allow one man to punch while the other was clinched, interfered.

Carney had to begin to do all the work in the fourth round, and he chased McAulife all over the inclosure. The exchanges in the next round were great. McAulife seemed to have a little the better of the straight left hand out fighting and to be the stronger. Mae laughed when Carney impatiently tried to coax him to fight a round or so, saying.

"I'll give you enough by and by."

The betting all through the battle, while the bottest seen at a prize fight in years, was also the most fluctuating. The fifth round, in which McAuliffe's waiting tactics came out very strong, closed with a bet of $20 to $10 on Carney. The sixth round was equitious, and Carney kept the American in his corner, only running him around the ring occasionally, but an offer of $100 to $75 on Mauliffe was maid.

Carney forced matters on Chambers's advice in the seventh round, and knocked Machiffe's was maid.

Carney forced matters on Chambers's advice in the seventh round, and knocked Machiffe's was maid.

Carney forced matters on Chambers's advice in the seventh round, and knocked Machiffe was maid.

Carney forced matters on Chambers's advice in the seventh round, and knocked Machiffe's was maid.

Carney forced matters on Chambers's advice in the seventh round, and knocked Machiffe's was maid.

Carney forced matters on Chambers's advice in the seventh round, and knocked Machiffe's was an also the most fluctuating.

The McAuliffe was a prize fight in years, was also the most fluctuating. The fifth round, in which McAuliffe's was a prize fight in years, was also the most fluctuating. The fifth round, in which McAuliffe's corner of $100 to $75 on Maulif

ENGLAND'S LATEST TRIUMPH. The British Lion Succeeds in Capturing

quarters, cheered justily when Mac got in a swinging right on Carney's check during a breakaway from a clinch, but subsided quickly as they saw how glad the Carneyites ould be to have in fighting allowed by the referee. Carney was fought to the ropes in the last of this round. Wonderfully clean work was done in the ninth and tenth rounds. Rally succeeded rally, and the clinches were quickly broken by the referee, who cautioned the men not to strike, walked between them and then told them they were free to engage. An offer of $300 even on Mac was made at the end of the tenth round.

Carney got in a good one on McAuliffe's eye carly in the eleventh, and the yells of his backers were answered by a claim of first blood from Carney's nose from the McAuliffe corner. It was awarded, although had Carney claimed it he could have won this event, for a little trickle of ruby flowed from the American's nostrils.

for a little trickle of ruby flowed from the American's nostrils.

The fighting of the next three rounds was a repetition of what had taken place, with McAuliffe's friends, who were in the ascendancy, constantly gaining confidence, because Carney hadn't finished their man. He was tiring, they said, and Mac would do him with a rush at the finish. Two hundred to one hundred dollars was offered on McAuliffe in the fifteenth round. Carney got in heavily on Mac's nose and mouth in the next round and knocked his man down at the ropes. The terrible exchanges of the sixteenth and seventeenth rounds were in favor of Carney.

CARNEY A WICKED FIGHTER. Carney, who once killed a man in the prize ring, is undoubtedly one of the wick-edest fighters in the world. He got angrier and angrier every succeeding round that McAulifie eluded him, his teeth set more firmly together and several times his seconds and the referee had their hands full in preventing him from losing on a foul by kicking or striking his coponent, who, from the twentieth round on, tried to win on a foul and later on tried to lose on one by grasping Carney by the legs and endeavoring to throw him.

him.

Mac cried "I'm bit" in the twenty-first round, and his seconds called the referee over to see the teeth marks. Stevenson laughed at them. DEBISIVE HOWLS FOR MAC. Carney got in some hard cracks on Mac's great sides and over his heart in the twenty-second, and the Williamsburger made a piti-ful exhibition of himself. He made a grimace of pain and tried to claim foul.

Each stopped hard left-handers at the finish, but $40 to $30 was offered on Carney.
McAuliffe begged for a foul and pressed his hands to his face in agony in the twentythird, amid derisive howls from the Bos-

Carney kept begging McAuliffe to come to the centre, as he was afraid to chase him in his corner all the time, but McAuliffe, who was sent up by the hardest work on the part of his seconds, did not laugh now and say, "Later on." He was in too serious a pickle. McAuliffe went down some twenty times in the next eight rounds to avoid pu nishment the next eight rounds to avoid put hishment and to try to win on a foul, but Carney wouldn't have it. McAuliffe kept crossing Carney whenever he saw a chance, as he found his left always went clean over the Englishman's head, and a bad left eye for Carney was the result; but it wasn't as bad as either of the American's eyes.

SYMPTOMS OF A BOW TO WIN. The first symptoms of a row to win were shown in the sixty-eighth round. The men fell together from weakness and the Mc-Auliffe people who had appealed as vainly to upright Referce Stevenson for fouls as the Carney people had, swarmed into the square. They claimed that Carney had butted their

They claimed that Carney had butted their man in the stomach, and it was very difficult to get them out.

Mac wanted to quit badly in the next round, when Carney, who forced him through the ropes in his own corner, banged him in the stomach. He claimed a foul, saying that Carnev hit him below the belt. The referee refused to allow it, and ordered the men to fight on. Mac getting a rest in his

COLOSSAL PANAMA CANAL.

M. DE LESSEP'S LOTTERY BOND SCREME IS ALSO COLOSSAL

The Letter Which He has Addressed to M. Rouvier—M. Effel Declares He will Finish the Construction Within the Time and on the Conditions Stipulated-Sharebolders

Pauls, Nov. 16.—It is probably owing to the recent heavy falls in Panama Canal shares that we may attribute the letter which M. Ferdinand de Lesseps has to-day ad-dressed to M. Rouvier, giving the President of the Council a sketch of the position of the company up to the present date. The eminent projector announces that M. Eiffel, who is engaged in the construction, has just pledged himself to execute the works which he has taken in hand at hie risk and peril within the time and on the condion to say that it now lies only with the French Government to assure definitely the fulfilment of the programme by authorizing universal company of the Interoceanic Canal to issue lottery bonds.

Accordingly M. Ferdinand de Lesseps asks for permission to issue lottery bends to the amount of 165,000,000 francs, and if necessary to issue besides, between this and 1890, letery bonds amounting to even the larger sum of £12,000,000.

The financial organ this evening expresses he opinion that the shareholders will entertain favorably their President's expose of measures to be adopted for the completion of this colossal enterprise. Colossal it is in every sense of the word, even in the matter of the lottery bonds.

THE CROWN PRINCE IS BETTER.

Dr. Bramann Gone to San Reme to Perform an Operation if It Becomes Necess

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Beslin, Nov. 16 .- According to private in telligence received here from San Remo, during last Monday night the Crown Prince suffered from a discharge of yellowish mate ter, resembling phlegm, from the laryar.

After the discharge, however, the swelling in the throat began to subside, and His Imperial Highness is stated to have falt considerably relieved. The Prince's general health continues excellent. Dr. Bramann, assistant to Prof. Bergu and one of the physicians of the Royal Olinical Hospital, has just gone to San Remo to attend the Crown Prince and parform the operation of trachestomy, should this prove

PROBABLY 400 PERSONS ARE LOST.

The British Stenmer Wah Young Barned on the Canton River. (SPECIAL CABLE TO THE STREETS WORLD.) LONDON, Nov. 16.—Lloyds's Hong Kong correspondent telegraphs, under the date of Nov. 16, 12.15 p. m.: The British steamer

Wah Young took fire in the Canton River and burned to the water's edge. About four hundred passengers are supposed to have b The "Standard" and Mr. Chamberlain ISPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD. I LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Standard this more ing says: "While it will no doubt be Mr. nberlain's object to adj in obtaining from the United States as large a measure as possible of commercial conces sion in exchange for the free use of her fishing grounds."

themselves, the interest of the Dominion lies

M. Foubert Arrested in Paris [SPECIAL CABLE TO THE SPENING WORLD, Paris, Nov. 16 .- M. Foubert, late Trees. urer of the Ministry of the Interior, has been arrested on account of his connection with a swindling scandal originated in 1885.

Senator Hawley's Marriage. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—The marriage of United States Senator Gen. Joseph R. Hawley and Miss Edith Horner took place yesterday in St. Clement's Episcopal Church. The national premi-Clement's Episcopal Church. The national preminence of the bridegroom and the social position of the bride, caused a very general turnout, not easily of local society people, but of eminent friend from a distance. Among those present at the church were Murat Haistead, of the Cincinnal Commercial Gazette; Ex-Judge Daniel G. Rolling and John B. Hague, of New York; Ex-Gev. Hubbard, of Connecticut; Lieut-Gen. P. H. Sheridan, Gen. Anson G. McCook, Senator Plat, of Connecticut, and Ex-Congressman John R. Boot. After the ceremony there was a wedding breakless at the residence of W. P. Naihan.

A Strange Pair of Lovers

NORWALE, CORD., Nov. 16.—A most singular attachment exists between a pig and a half-grown cat belonging to Mr. John Grover, of this city. Shortly after he had purchased the pig. a kitten Shortly after he had purchased the pig. a gitten less than three weeks old accidentally fell into the pen. The pig, instead of devouring the intruder seemed pleased with his new companion, and showed if every attention consistent with its hoggisn hature. The attachment was reciprocated by the kitten, which soon made itself at home, and is now to be seen any day, whether the porker is waking or sleeping perched upon his back or curred up under his left car. The pig guards the kitten with jealous care, and shows the most vigosous lossility toward any one who attempts to moless or pet her.

Arrested for Libelling the Sixty-Fifth. TORONTO, Out., Nov. 14.—E. C. Sheppard, ed

tor of the Nece, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Dubriel, of Montreal, on a charge of thei-ling the Sixty-Bith French Canadian Raginess during the Northwest rebellion. He applied for a

Prob Produces More Fair Weather. WARHINGTON, NOV. 16 -

